Flow Stool

Designer	Jean Marie Massaud
Year	2014-2024

Flow Stool, part of the iconic collection designed by Jean Marie Massaud, is available with a white or black polyurethane shell and a variety of base options: sled or VN 4-legged wood, offered in natural, brown, bleached, or the Canaletto walnut finish. An optional upholstered pad is also available for more comfort. Designed to suit a variety of settings, from residential to contract spaces, Flow Stool combines versatile materials with refined finishes. The wooden bases are crafted from responsibly managed forests, ensuring an environmentally conscious approach to the selection of raw materials.

Shell
Structural high-density TECH® polyurethane, goffered finish.

Pad
Upholstered pad, made with polyurethane and polyester wadding, and with quilting that is thermally bonded to the fabric.
Removable cover in fabric or leather.

Sled base
Matt painted steel rod, matching-coloured feet.

4 VN wooden legs, 360° swivel
